

Dr. Yuguang Huang is a Professor and Chairman of Department of Anesthesiology in Peking Union Medical College Hospital, Beijing, China.

He graduated with Master Degree from Peking Union Medical College Hospital in 1988 and did his Postdoctoral Research in Anesthesiology at University Hospital from 1991 to 1993 in Salt Lake City, Utah, USA. Since 2006 he has been head of the Department of Anesthesiology at Peking Union Medical College Hospital.

He is an active member in national and international societies including,

- Chairman and Professor of the Department of Anesthesiology, PUMC Hospital
- President Elect for Chinese Society of Anesthesiology (CSA)
- Director of Anesthetic Quality Assurance Center of National Health and Family Planning Commission of the People's Republic of China (NHFPC)
- Member of World Federation of Societies of Anesthesiologists (WFSA) Safety & Quality of Practice Committee
- Board of Director and Vice-Secretary General of Asian Australasian Regional Section (AARS) of World Federation of Societies of Anesthesiologists (WFSA)
- Past President for International Society for Anaesthetic Pharmacology (ISAP)
- Past President for Chinese Association of Anesthesiologists (CAA)
- Immediate Past President for Beijing Society of Anesthesiologists of Beijing Medical Association (BSA)
- Section Editor of Anesthesia and Analgesia

Prof. Huang has numerous publications and rewards on his credit. His research interests are focus on neuropathic pain with several grants from MOH and National Natural Research Foundation. His clinical interests are focus on anesthesia and ERAS for high risk patients and blood management, together with patient safety and quality assurance. 1998, he won the second prize of "Jieping Medical Research Award - Paul Janssen Pharmacy Award". In 1999, he received the second prize of the Technology Progress Award by the Ministry of Health. Moreover, Prof. Huang won the second prize of the Science and Technology Progress Award by the Ministry of Education in 2006. In 2015, he was awarded as Expert with Outstanding Contributions by NHFPC.